Project Description:

Please describe the nature of the problem to be solved and/or the information you are seeking. If this project is an Optimum Trajectory Future Study, indicate that below along with the area of focus, timeframe and anything relevant to the study you think we should know about:

Here is the report details i want to request: (please read all from this page to page 4)

Would like to request for a project to obtain specific information and director for HOW Wilson Wong can make that “energy device” happen (even it is just prototype) from now

(refer to his previous session, under the “Most important activity of Wilson Wong, he is looking via a device)

(reference to my life mission previous report, the sketch below and that was under the “most important activity” movement in my life mission, that particular data was: “I am looking through something, perhaps a piece of equipment or a camera or a site” as also circled below. See the sketch and description here:

From the TARGET'S MOST IMPORTANT ACTIVITY the CLF "like has a keen eye for" things, on this trajectory the CLF "can see it clearer" and is "pleased". Someone is "like enamored with" this activity, and there is a "pressing up and out". There is data suggesting there may be "water" here, and the CLF is "like looking through something", perhaps a piece of equipment or a camera or a site. The CLF is "seeing the big picture" of "how it fits or looks after it's done". AOLs that may or may not be significant include: hose, green house, toad, forest, age count, machine, is one and out the other, saw tooth, cap, survey, physical therapy, and fixer. The Sketch shows the CLF looking close up at something. A second sketch was produced of some natural aspect, and below that eyes looking through or into something. Looking at how it looks after it's done may suggest the CLF is looking at a completion in the future.

Confident

I really really really want to obtain specific information I could action toward to make that device happen from the present time. (as i seriously dont know what to do). So i expected this to be multiple project until i could get some one done.

Several questions below

- If the actual device is only supposed to happen in much further future, is it possible to build a prototype for its core feature in a foreseeable time frame like 6 months? Like making its “looking glass” component happens.
- What technologies or resources I need to access, if I start to make the energy device happen from now.
- What actions are required to take in order to activate the trajectory to have that energy device happen?
- So far I know the most interesting aspect of this device is: it allows to actually see the spiritual world (or energy realm) by plain eyes
Say I would label this function as “Ether field looking glass”, what sort of technologies or material would allow such to happen?

Which specific keyword i should able to obtain more information from GOOGLE of its technologies/material for how it goes

- Is this device obtainable from others? Or I have to invent it myself?
- What is the general theory behind this “looking glass” aspect of the device, how is that even possible to visualize the spiritual world from a physical equipment standpoint? Can I have several key works to do a google search for more information please ?
- In the original sketch of this device, under what context or situation I will start to encounter with this device? Say, did I invent it in the future or just so happens to me by circumstance?
- Of the “looking glass”, would it be a special type of lens that reflects and visualizes the hidden energy light in the outside world? If yes, how do I obtain the material to test out?
